

Joon S. Han

Author | Professional Speaker | Business Strategist

Leading business strategist Joon S. Han has been inspiring and challenging smart audiences all over the world since 1990. His brand of insightful and straightforward business talk will get your group excited to transform their businesses and our world in a fresh new way.

Joon is also the author of the highly-acclaimed book, Get Ahead by Giving Back, which shows businesses how to use the powerful and proven advantage of generosity. Whether it be Fortune 20, Inc. 5000, world-class universities and non-profits, or even the mom-and-pop restaurant or store just down your street; Joon brings innovative thought leadership that will excite and delight your members as they get great results towards their business success. His dedication and skill at showing business leaders “how to fish” instead of just getting a fish for today “wow”s participants every time.

“Behind every business is a powerful dream for you and your loved ones... that’s why my passion is for you to grow from being way too busy to being very effective. I want you to have more time and money for those that matter most to you!”

Talent hits a target no one else can hit; Genius hits a target no one else can see
